

NEW PREMIER SAVES ONTARIO $40,000 FIRST DAY

OPERATING COST OF MAIN BOARDS CUT 50 PERCENT

Resignation of Chief Engineer of Hydro Commission to be Asked Today, Others Shorten.

By FRANK FLAHERTY

TORONTO, July 12.—After consulting with the association of tried political veterans the new Ontario cabinet, headed by Premier E. F. H. Hespurn, began to rule Ontario Wednesday.

Fifteen ministers in the election pledges their first task was to replace the two most important communications in the province more than 50 percent less than the previous administration.

Mr. Hespurn's "big paraphrases" to the officials of the hydro-electric power commission and the liquor control board heading the two most important government offices.

NEW HYDRO BOARD

The new hydro commission is headed by T. Stewart Lyon of Toronto as chairman with a salary of $10,000 a year. The other commissioners are ministers of the crown who will serve without salary. They are H. H. Price, minister of highways, and Hon. Arthur G. Odeite of Timmins, the new one-man liquor commissioner whose salary will also be $10,000.

The first task of the new hydro commission will be to cut costs. Thursday will be to call for the Galt chief engineer of the hydro-electric system. On him they have specific instructions to make changes. Thursday's section of the parade will not end with Mr. Gaby, however.

Mr. Odeite announced A. H. Birmingham, president of the Liquor Control board, would also va-riate his post.

RAYING $40,000

The first meeting in statutory salaries of commissioners effected by the new government today is $40,000.
The new hydro commission members in three number, drew $8,- 000 a year. On the new commission only the chairman will receive a salary of $10,000. This means a saving of $28,000. The one-man liquor commissioner will receive a salary board which drew $22,000 a year.

Resignations of two other officials were also accepted today. Former minister of public works and a member of the Niagara Falls commission and R. A. Staples resigned as chairman of the minimum wage board.

Making Caring For Children A Business

Dear Miss Dia—We help my parents and do it gladly, although it costs our budget to do so. We don't begrudge this, but it would be HEAVENLY if we could earn a few dollars. I am a good dancer and I am fortunate to take care of my two children while my husband and I went out to some place of amusement, but she never does. Occasionally I will talk her and she agrees to go, but she always does it reluctantly—Well, I'll take them, but I have a terrific headache. On Saturday evenings we can't go out because we have to go home, but I am awfully busy. And so on in a way that induces me to say, "I have no time to ask you for a favor."

My mother is not old and is in good health. She belongs to a club, goes to church, has time to work to do, etc., so I can't see why she shouldn't help me out now and then. How can I put it up to her diplomatically?

MRS. JIM.

Answer:

This is not a case for diplomacy. It is one where brutal tactics are called for. You have to fight selfishness with selfishness, and you have to be firm. You must give her a reason why she shouldn't help me out now and then. How can I put it up to her diplomatically?

What New York Is Wearing
 By Helen Williams

2904

A pretty soft chiffon cotton blouse that will look pink without wrinkling was chosen for today's charming model.

It's sleeveless. First it is belted at the waist, then at the back to slim the waistline, and the skirt has pointed panels and a long hem.

Eyelet blouse in navy, deep brown or pink, with a wide sailor collar.

Chiffon prints, sheer linen print and silk crepe are also in nice mediums.

Style No. 2904 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 44 inches bust. Size 36 requires 4½ yards of 50-inch material with ¼ yard of 15-inch contrasting.

CONVENTION DE HABAN

Years after the first bridge convention has been abandoned, it comes out in some unexpected spot. This year it was in the Atlantic City Convention regularly, or he may have found it in his local book store. Last May I ran across a conventional book which was introduced about 1915 by William Lenz, Ray Leinenweber and others. When S. S. Lenz, Ray Leinenweber and others were in the Whitby's apartment. We soon abandoned the convention, and I have not once since seen it. Now I can stand any of my crowd. You all die old maid. But I dugress.

East Waters Take Seven Lives

FOUR DROWN WHEN SMALL CRAFT SINKS

TWO YOUNG GIRLS CAUGHT IN CURRENT AT Hamilton Bay

Lake and river waters claimed seven lives, one in Quebec and six in Ontario Wednesday. Allegedly a small outrigger, which was drawn in by a northbound boat, was capsized by rapids captured his canoe; two girls were drowned in the St. Lawrence River in Hamilton Bay, and four people met death in the St. Clair river near Wainfleet when a small duckboat capsized.

IN OTTAWA RIVER

QUEBEC, July 12.—Through the current of a deep channel while bathing in Hamilton Bay, Mrs. F. M. Flinn, 18, her 10-year-old sister, Dot, were drowned Wednesday night. The girls, unattached, had been swimming with another sister, Lottie, 14, and were paddling about on motor car tire tubes when the surface failed to reappear.

CHANNEL DEEP

HAMILTON, Ont., July 12.—Caught in the current of a deep channel while bathing in Hamilton Bay, Mrs. F. M. Flinn, 18, her 10-year-old sister, Dot, were drowned Wednesday night. The girls, unattached, had been swimming with another sister, Lottie, 14, and were paddling about on motor car tire tubes when the surface failed to reappear.

DUCKBOAT SWAMPED

COURTRIGHT, Ont., July 12.—Four persons were drowned here late last night when a heavily laden duckboat was swamped in the middle of the St. Clair river.

The Four

Mrs. David Davidson, 48, of Court-right; William Davidson, 10, son; John Codotta, Italian laborer of Windsor; Mrs. Dotter, Italian laborer of Windsor; Mrs. Mrs. Mrs. Fred Dunn, son-in-law of Mrs. Davidson.

DIABETES CURE SALES CURBED

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A former eye-glass salesman of Kansas City, Mo., has been ordered by the federal trade commission to cease selling a "sure cure" for diabetes.

The trade commission's report added that 1,400 cases of sugar diabetes are known to exist in this country, and the only safe treatment is insulin.

BELGIUM ENDS LANGUAGE WAR

BRUSSELS, July 12.—The long political battle in Belgium over the use of French and German languages has ended.

A law has been proposed making French equal rights in currency.

The law, introduced by the Flemish party, will give the French-speaking Belgians the right to use their language in all public documents.

Belgian officials have agreed to accept the proposal.

"SAFETY FIRST"

By Ogden Kent

"That's a phony name," Tim Malley said as he read the scrawled "John Smith" on the card.

Rance Clayton grinned. "Rude," he said. "But I can see you as much swamp cypress with that name there. You're not any good, Mister. Plenty men get killed down in the Big Swamp. Trees are tall and thick, and it's hard to get out. Guess you must be dogged in th' hot squat, huh?"

"I know you like that, I wouldn't murder nobody. All I done in the Big Swamp was—"

"Rance, was you in th' war and did you get shell-shocked?"

"Now, I reckon I'd better ex-

"That's a phony name," Tim Malley said.

"Your wife? What did you do, beat her up?"

"One night, Big Bertha was in the house and me up together with her. She was so drunk she thought nobody could live with her. I'm s'pose to save me up a few hours, but I got to go to work. My brother is and go into business with him and that get me a decent job."

"OK, we'll see you just the same name on our books but you don't want to be seen with us. You won't be in th' company will it see?"

And so Rance Clayton gave the former soldier a job at the local real name.

Rance Malley discovered, however, that his new employer was an unusually valuable man. He knew more ways to snake cypress trees than any man he ever saw, a maximum of labor and time for any ten other men.

The man was setting better money than he had ever earned before. He worked hard, but he worked hard now. And then he sent letters to his brother down in Texas. "I'm s'pose to get a job with him. My brother is buying an adjoining farm for him, on installation, the man is getting paid for not supporting your wife," Malley told him.

"Shucks, I had to live with her folks anyhow and she always run away from me. She's gotten on all right," said Rance.

BEAT IT

"Downright onerous. She was a big woman when she told me one day she wanted to get out of town and had to move over. But the god bigger and harder than she was. I never seen a woman beat or if any little thing didn't please her she'd come at you with a wallop that would knock you flat and lem me tell you that square foot of skin you'd have to stand for a week. Seein' if th' only way that wife of mine could get relief was to teach her a lesson. I'd take her by the hair and knock me flat or hit me with her fist, which was what it took. I never seen a woman like her. I went to the dentist, and sent me up to the doctor, and he sent me up to the bucket. That's when I come here."

"She's been here since she took her last house."

I never was one to beat up any woman, but I've seen some. I could have licked her I wouldn't have tected a finger on her. If ever you see a woman like that, she's as big as that house out there, wearied, cowed, with wild fits on, she'll know what to do with me word or I'll never forgive you."

The former soldier agreed.

In Fall, Rance Malley had worked in the big swamp around two thousand miles from the circus coming to Swamp Fork.

A circus was something Rance Malley had never seen. He could not remember, if it came within fifty miles of him.

Like a kid to an arid spot, was a circus to Rance Clayton. Malley layed him at home, and he was a student in current affairs; more critical college newspapers and magazines, and he was a member of the Phi Delta Frat, lecturing at many colleges and universities, this expresses me

"Terrifically harmful. Here is a boy, his story told by Anna Cohn and Nathan Alowitzky."

He had what money he had not sent on to Texas to pay for his farm safety about him in a canvas

A Fascinating Pastime with Albert Edward Wiggin, D.Sc., the Noted Author of

The Fruit of the Tree

ANSWER: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Not all moral questions can be answered with absolute scientific accuracy, but no decision as to what is morally right is possible without some consideration of the rights of organized society above the rights of individual.

1.—No. In Materia of the Arts, Vol. 1, Norman Wooffe, he says:

"In recent years college and university students have given more attention to the study of intelligence, and its relation to personality which is itself part of your mental life. This is a field of study which makes for success in life."

2.—Terribly harmful. Here is a boy, his story told by Anna Cohn and Nathan Alowitzky."

He became a thief, liar, developed many neurotic symptoms, and had to be placed in a reformatory

HOW INTELLIGENCE ARE YOU?

You can now test your intelligence against that of the world's most intelligent people with this test of intelligence. It is only part of your mental life, but it is a very important part of your personality which makes for success in life."

3.—Yes. Dr. Edward Wiggin, the noted psychologist, and author of Phi Delta Frat, says:

"The first flight of the first silent steam-turbine-driven airplane recently were completed near Berlin in the presence of the German army and civilian experts."

you to do is come along with us.

I promise you that well not harm you so there's no cause for alarm. Just march along till we reach camp and don't stop to rest.

"Then Scousy whispered to the rest, 'I guess what he has said is best. Besides I want to find out just what this is all about.'

Thus the march began. Let's go along right to their camp. Then, if we can't get away, we'll find a place to do our best.

"All right," the other Twimites said as they all marched along.

Poor Duncy still was worried. He said, "This does not look good to me. I have a presentiment that something bad will go wrong."

However, they kept moving and one soldier slowly raised his hand. "Halt!" he cried. "We've reached our camp. No more, now, must we go."

Within a tent you all sleep, and on you good watch we will set. And you wise, you'll settle down and make yourselves at home."

NEWEST ONTARIO PREMIER EASILY BECOMES 'MITCH'

Mitchell F. Hepburn Likeable, Peppy Enthusiast—Made Political Speech at Six Years.

Even the most determined who came to him for loans called him "Mitch." He had been known by no other name by anybody since he was knee high to a grasshopper.

He is now 10 years old, and a week ago today was called him Mitch, or perhaps Hep. There's an asset for a politician.

He made his first political speech in school when he was a duster, or so—but that's a story by itself.

He could and will do great in their political career, to be sure, and everybody who calls him Mitch, whether farmer, laborer, banker, lawyer, school teacher or what not.

He has the nerve of the features he wears on his face, and since he learned about it, he roads into town of any kind as if he had a gun in his pocket, and nothing else could matter. That ruthless abandonment to the think in hand is the mark of the Hepburn boy, and his only fear is for a beloved son. She has always been afraid that he would bring him up. But she has burned out only those who try to keep him from the public eye.

So there should be little wonder that Mitchell F. Hepburn, not yet 10, has become the youngest Ontario through one of the most sensational political turnarounds in the history of the province, heading that way all his life, whether he's ready or not.

Mitch has the desire to tell about that first political speech. He was 10, too, and went to the Ontario Union from the Ontario Yarmouth Farmers' Union. Wier, the teacher, was a good man, but when he found that Mitchell had been eating an apple in class, made the boy eat an orange, and the teacher spoke up in the sight of one day.

The big boy thought he was brought from home. It hit the press. Mr. Wier, Wilfrid Laurier and Sir George E. Brewster were asked.

"Sir, we're your politicians are you?" asked the 10-year-old boy. "We'll make a political speech."

Mitch got his father to write out a speech, and the next day he memorized it and delivered it without any fear, to the smacking delight of the audience.

"Mr. Wier said it was a good speech, and I think it happened to be a grit himself," said the boy.

APPLE AND HIGH HAT

It was directly through politics, and the likeable, peppy, enthusiastic bowler hat that Mitch became a blackie. He was then going on 17, and was a member of the Hepburn speech near St. Thomas. He was in fact hard and frock coat—it was before the time of the great depression, the picture of unrefined dignity on the open-air platform before thousands.

From the rigors of a nearby winter, he had come a hardy, tenacious boy, had come, whirling an apple. It came off his hand, and the apple clattered through the air to a stop, and clipped it through to the air.

So Adam laughed the thing off, but shocked fathers of the community thought an outrage had been committed, and what could be done about it?

Next morning, V. K. Greer, director of matrons of matrons at the colleague, having been told that the parents of the outcast was Mitch Hepburn, sent a telegram to his parents, but met with a few dead ends.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Greer, now chief inspectors of Ontario schools, Mitch declined to respond to the letter, and the boy left. He was given the chance of a position or being free from school.

With a mixture of Saxon blood and Irish in his veins, Canadian blood, and that somebody else was doing some of the work, he never went back to school.

In 1926, the 10-year-old boy went to H. E. Taylor, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in St. Thomas, and asked for a job. He got it and went to work as a janitor.

He was 17 when he was transferred to the North Main Street branch of the bank in Windsor as a page-in-training.

Mitch enlisted in the Fort Garry Guards, and was a trooper, ready to leave for war, but the war was contingent, when it was discovered that he was under age, and that parental permission was necessary. Consent was given, and Mitch went back to work in the bank, only to be transferred to Toronto, with the rest of the force.

Two years later he joined the Royal Air Force as a cadet, training in Canada, and then went to England, where he was a trooper, ready to leave for war, but the war was contingent, when it was discovered that he was under age, and that parental permission was necessary. Consent was given, and Mitch went back to work in the bank, only to be transferred to Toronto, with the rest of the force.

During the days of his training and early service, he drew overtures that he married Eva Hepburn, daughter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, linking two families of the élite district of Toronto.

His mother, considerably more approves of the vigorous young man, with which Mitch does his political activities, and she has written to the Commissioner Howard Ferguson High Constabulary in London.

His political friends say much the same thing, and they are right. He is a wily old master of people work.

"Mitch"

HON. MITCHELL HEPPNER

He is shown here at the age of six years.

SIAMESE TWIN WINS POINT IN ALTAR DEBATE

City Must Give Reason Why Ruling Shouldn't Be Reversed

NEW YORK, July 13.—Fretty red-headed Violet Hilton, the right half of the Siamese twins, has won her battle against the city to get a license to marry her sweetheart in her fight for a marriage license.

Undismayed by refusal of New York City and Newark, N.J., officials to grant a license to her and Maurice Lambert, she has engaged an attorney—and, perhaps, her sister Daisy, to aid in the case to court.

"The city's argument is that Miss Hilton could not wed because she is a Siamese twin in a physical sense," says attorney Irving Levy. "She is legally, however, a person in her own right."

In a few days Justice Peter Schmitt signed an order requiring Department of Health Commissioner Hines to give a good reason why the city's policy should not be reversed.

DAIRY FOLK MAKE MERRY AT PICNIC

More Than 500 Employees Enjoy Outing at Victoria Park

It was a great day for the Edmonton City Dairy employees and their families Wednesday when over 500 of them turned out for an annual E.C.D. picnic held in the scenic grounds of Victoria park.

The entertainment consists of rates games, a tug-of-war, football and baseball games, horse shoe throwing and free ice cream.

Mitch was about ready for graduation from college when the world brought his school days to an abrupt end. But he wanted to wait until midnight out of his reading, and developed an encyclopedic knowledge of the world's affairs, and a fine sense and acute faculty which became the despair of his political opponents.

ACTIVE POLITICS

Mitch got his first real political experience in the United Farmers of Ontario, and his first speech, his first enemies and his first friends.

He was 10, and he was a speaker, but he was a good one, and he was soon elected to the executive committee of the U.F.O. from 1926 to 1929.

There was no movement to make the big boy a speaker, but he was, and he was, but he was a good one, and he was soon elected to the executive committee of the U.F.O. from 1926 to 1929.

Johnny Blochlinger Wins First Bout In Empire Games Boxing Trials

DATS PANS by BILL LEWIS

Everywhere about the city yesterday there were praises for the performance of the city policeman, Paul Meenan, who Tuesday won the amateur boxing semi-finals at Montreal that earned him a spot in the Empire Games at London next month... Meenan is decidedly popular among the boxing fans, and his victory was received with the greatest satisfaction on all sides... As he sat in his office July 20 and his efforts to bring the British Empire title to Edmonton were discussed with great interest...

Golfers and golf fans will be sorry to learn of the departure of Canadian golfer Roy Horne many times Edmonton and provincial women's champion, who has now moved to New York City... She has been an outstanding golfer during her recent stay in Canada, and she is leaving with many friends... She is to leave in Calgary...

Boxing followers received no little thrill when news reached in that Louis Lavoie, local amateur boxer, was beaten in his first bout in the Empire Games trials in Montreal... Lavoie, who represented Canada at the 1928 Olympic games, was one of the favorites to win a place on the team... However, this was not to be, as he was topped by the young success of Johnny Blochlinger, who gained a decision in his first-round bout.

CITY JUNIOR CRICKETERS TAKE MATCH

Edmonton Boys Triumph Over Calgary Team By 91 to 51

CALGARY, July 12.—Edmonton junior cricketers defeated Calgary last night in the annual inter-city match played at Riley Park on Wednesday. It was a first innings decision. Edmonton scored 100 to 51 for Calgary. Their team, to date, had not lost a game.

Meenan is decidedly popular among the boxing fans, and his victory was received with the greatest satisfaction on all sides... As he sat in his office July 20 and his efforts to bring the British Empire title to Edmonton were discussed with great interest...

KINGMEN WALLOP CUBS TO CAPTURE CONTEST BY 12-2

Buck Eaton in Masterful Form to Win Over Conklin Club

By BILL LAWNS

As bats of his Royal team-mates shelled two opposing pitchers mercilessly, Buck Eaton buried mostly ball and enough riloes to capture the contest for the Kingmen by 12-2 at Renfrew Park last night and take over sole leadership of the league.

Letting loose a blizzard of bases that never slackened, Royals' bats hit 10 runs in the first four innings and 18 runs in the second. The Kingmen bats were finally flushed in the ninth frame, but one of their best players, Jim Eaves, had a sheer batting power seen in the big ninth, hitting a single and driving in 13 hits recorded for the Kingmen before their bats were silenced.

THEIR BIG HITTERS

Buck Eaton, with three hits in five at the plate, Clayton Dolgarn, with three for six, Ousey with two and Smith with one. Double play—C. Dolgarn to Hodges, C. Dolgarn to Eaves, C. Dolgarn to Eaves, C. Dolgarn to Hodges.

Conklin Club, the losers, had an occasional one as large as a small egg. The damage to damage was 10 runs to 2. The Kingmen bats followed the hole more than offset the damage.

Light Hail Falls

ERSKINE, July 12.—A hail storm passed over Erskine on Saturday afternoon about four o'clock but the half was still falling when the game began. It was an occasional one as large as a small egg. The damage to damage was 10 runs to 2. The Kingmen bats followed the hole more than offset the damage.

Given plenty of rest since his last appearance, Eddie Campbell, the Kingmen's Cub, was back in the Cub hitters. He gave up only three singles and Conklin's triple and none of his dangerous.

Surprisingly enough, Royals' bats were looking into a 1-0 deficit at the end of the second stanza, but they quickly recovered and took the lead in the third and there was no stopping them. They counted four runs in the fourth, three in the fifth, seven more broke out with a four-run sprang in the eighth and finished off with a pair in the ninth.
